ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

We are authorized to announce P. T. COOLEY a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Adair County subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR JAILER.

We are authorized to announce J. M. E. ADER, a candidate for Jailer of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

What a strange world this would be if from politicians it was free, But Satan would frown and fret, you know

To see political tricksters go.

The grand jury of Barren county has indicted R. W. Knott, editor of the Limberger Cheese, for libel.

F. J. Taylor has tendered his resignation as editor of the Glasgow Republican and has been succeeded by his son, J. F. Taylor.

Cloverport, the thriving city of Breckinridge county, was fearfully damaged by fire last week. All the business portion of the city was destroyed, entailing a loss of about a half million of dollars.

Just as predicted in last week's issue of the News, Catron was nominated on first ballot in the Burkville convention. "You tickle me, I tickle you," my county for you, your county for me, and my friend,—the next time, you know.

Bev White has resigned as Sheriff of Clay county, and the feed that has existed there for years is at an end. All the feudists have agreed to lay aside their arms and let the law take its course. Sheriff White will remove to Madison county.

Hon. W. J. Bryan has announced that he will enlarge the The Commoner and admit advertisers. If he is as true to the commercial interests of the people as he is to his political faith and destiny of the government, no one need fear him from any firm who may advertise in The Commoner.

The spread of Mormonism, if, however, it is spreading at all, is to be regarded by all good citizens, and, in our judgment, their polygamous practice at home is a question for the Federal Government to handle. If the Legislature of Utah is making legal provisions for a plurality of wives, it is the duty of the general government to require a strict obedience to the Federal Constitution. Utah is not separated from the rest of the States, and the constitution has the same power over her as it has over any other State. Her critics, under this supreme law of the land, are entitled to worship God as their conscience dictates; they have the same right to become misniches, at home or abroad, as other religious creeds, and so long as they keep within the confines of the laws of our State they should be protected in their life, liberty and their specific mission; when they transgress they should be made to answer to the Commonwealth. The News does not countenance polygamy nor do we sympathize with the forswearing of this peculiar faith, but we do believe in the supremacy of law and order. It would not increase disgraces, cowardly and unlawful acts against men who are guaranteed protection by both Federal and State laws. It believes in the suppression of Mormonism by education and legal methods, and would condemn the "horsewhipping" act regardless of who might administer it.

Gov. Beckham and wife are now at Christian Pass, Miss., and acting Governor Carter is being besieged for pardons.

Political cyclones are often generated in small rooms, and on the verge of decisive battles, and the man who said "that politics is hell" must have known that some candidates get the "pats and promises" while their opponents get the votes.

Mr. W. P. Walton, for many years the editor of the Interior Journal, is a candidate for Railroad Commissioner to succeed Mr. C. C. McChord. That Mr. Walton is eminently fitted for this position there is not a doubt, and the many hot and hard fights he has made for the Democratic party are sufficient to command him to every good Democrat throughout this district. With his energy, determination, and the fears he has always taken against the common political foe, he will doubtless achieve his desires.

Ex-President Harrison, whose illness was of short duration, died over the river of death last Wednesday evening, at his home in Indianapolis. Throughout the entire country party prejudice has been swept aside in expressions of admiration for the great American whose life and devotion to his country have been so manifest from 1851 to the day of his death.

It is not our intention to attempt to extol his virtues or hide his failings. Our space is limited and our knowledge too meager, but being a public man whose official attainments had reached the most exalted station of life, we deem it a privilege of ours to say that he was in many respects a great statesman, true to convictions and upright and honest both in private and public stations. Mr. Harrison was one of the few who standing and prestige continued to grow after his retirement from office. Under his Administration, of National affairs, the country was in a normal condition, peace without and prosperity within, hence, he retired without any cause of stirring the country, of achieving special notoriety, but his firm stand against the Colonial policy of the present Administration, and his strong denunciation of English supremacy, and the African patriots are sufficient to indicate that he would have been a wonderful man at the head of our government under present conditions and tendencies. Not of our political faith, yet, we admired him as a great champion of human liberties, a good man and an able statesman. Funeral services were held in Indianapolis on Sunday. President McKinley, his Cabinet and many other prominent men of the Nation were present. His body was laid to rest in Crown Hill cemetery beside his first wife.
